Michael, attached are the first two figures, the existing alternative elevation and flat configuration. I will forward the sled hill as soon as I get it. Note, the costs, areas and heights are included. I have the volumes but would prefer not to hand those out. We can discuss them, I don't want people to think we have more accuracy than we do. I also have some of the breakout costs but for discussion only. There are a lot of factors that go into these individual costs and they will change as we move toward design. At this point we just don't have the data and are making a lot of assumptions.
